News · Notices · Special Events

PUBLISHED BY THE CITY OF PHOENIX

YOUNG MAN/YOUNG WOMAN OF THE YEAR CHOSEN

Tyler Rosensteel

Tyler Rosensteel, a sophomore at Brophy College Preparatory, and Leah Carter, a junior at Sunnyslope High School, have been named the Outstanding Young Man and Young Woman of the Year.

Both students live in City Council District 3 and were selected from a group of 14 finalists chosen from the city's eight City Council districts.

Rosensteel, who maintains a grade point average of 4.0296, is a founder of the North Village Alliance, a civic group made up of business and government leaders, clergy, educators and neighbors to organize community service projects. He also has tutored grade school children, volunteers at St. Mary's Food Bank and is president of the Teenage Republicans.

Leah Carter

Carter, ranked in the top 2 percent of her class with a 4.0 grade point average, competes on the Sunnyslope speech team, participates in high school theater productions, and is a member of the Spanish Honor Society. She also babysits weekly at her church nursery and worked with disabled children in Washington Elementary School District.

District winners were: District 1, Christopher Hill, Sandra Day O'Connor High School, Rachel Cruz, Lone Cactus Regional High School; District 2, Adam Duhlberg, Horizon High School, and Julianne Yee, North Canyon High School; District 4, Alicia Fleming, St. Mary's High School; District 5, Fatema Aboozar, Washington High School; District 6, Donald Benjamin, Arcadia High School, and Christina Kwong, Desert Vista High School; District 7, Javier Nieblas, Brophy College Preparatory and Tiffany Volkenant, Metro Tech Vocational Institute; and District 8, Robert Murillo, South Mountain High School, and Cecilia Saenz, Camelback High School.

Nominations open for Ability Counts Awards

I f you know students with disabilities or individuals who have contributed to the advancement of people with disabilities, nominate them for the Ability Counts Student and Community Awards.

The awards recognize students who live or attend school in Phoenix and who have overcome barriers to accomplish their personal and academic goals, and individuals who have made life better for people with disabilities.

To obtain a nomination form, call 602-262-7486/voice or 602-534-1557/TTY or visit phoenix.gov/CITZASST/acprogra.html. The nomination deadline is 5 p.m. June 6.

WORKSHOP FEATURES MEMORY SCREENING

I f you or someone you love has memory loss, dementia or Alzheimer's, plan to attend a free workshop and memory screening 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, June 7, at the Burton Barr Central Library, 1221 N. Central Ave.

The workshop will feature discussions on neurology, depression in the elderly, caregiver issues, treatment options and support group information. Memory screenings will be offered throughout the day.

The Human Services Department, Senior Services Division, the Alzheimer's Association, Arizona Chapter and Pfizer Pharmaceutical are co-sponsors of the event.

Registration begins at 8 a.m. For more information or to register, call 602-274-9500.

Tracy Liebsohn

COCPAH STUDENT WINS ART CONTEST

Tracy Liebsohn, a Cocopah Middle School student, is the first place winner of the International Young Artist Competition sponsored by the Phoenix Sister Cities Commission. The entries were judged on the originality of their design and creative interpretation of this year's contest theme, which was "Reach for a Hand . . . Touch a Heart." Liebsohn's work, an untitled piece, earned her the $300 grand prize.

The top entries will be entered in the Sister Cities

International competition and the winning pieces will be displayed during the 2003 Sister Cities International Annual Conference in St. Louis, Mo., and throughout member cities.

Others winners were Alex Carbajal of Cesar Chavez High School, second place; David Candelaria of Brophy College Preparatory, third place; and Raquel Regalado of the Humanities & Sciences Institute, fourth place.

For more information on the International Young Artist Competition or the Phoenix Sister Cities Commission, call 602-534-3751.

HELP KEEP SENIORS, DISABLED COOL IN SUMMER

The city of Phoenix Human Services
Department is helping to keep seniors and disabled residents cool this summer through its Summer 2003 Cooler
Start-Up Program.

The program helps residents with such services as inspecting and replacing cooler motor and belt, changing the pump or pads, shutting down the furnace or replacing the system when repair costs exceed replacement costs.

To qualify, residents must be at least 60 years old, disabled, meet low-income requirements, own their own home and not have participated in this program in the past 12 months.

For more information, call 602-262-4614.

JOB FAIR FOR DISABLED JUNE 16

If you have a disability and are looking for a job or career change, bring your résumé to the Ability Counts Job Fair 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday, June 16, at the Burton Barr Central Library Pulliam Auditorium, 1221 N. Central Ave.

You can meet with more than 30 employers and learn about career opportunities industries such as hospitality, technology, retail, high-tech, health care, manufacturing, finance, government and customer service.

The free fair is sponsored by the Mayor's Commission on Disability Issues, Phoenix Equal Opportunity Department and the Arizona Commission for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing and Rehabilitation Services Administration.

For information, disability accommodations or material in alternate formats, call 602-262-7486 or 602-534-1557/TTY.

WATER WORKSHOPS SET

The Water Conservation Office will host four special workshops this summer.

Planned are: Agaves for Southwestern Gardens, June 14; How to Properly Collect and Use Graywater in Arizona, June 21; Converting Your Landscape to Xeriscape, July 12; and Make Your Home Water Conservation Smart and Drought Resistant, July 26.

All of the programs will be at the Desert Botanical Garden, Saturdays, 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. The fee is $10.00. For reservations, call 480-941-1225.